

Teilkapitel „Intelligenz“ (Lehrbuch, S. 319-336: relevante Begriffe/Konzepte)

- Intelligence
- Psychometric approach to intelligence:
 - “mental age”, IQ, distribution of IQ scores
 - Spearman’s g
 - Fluid vs. crystallized intelligence
 - Gardner’s multi-component theory of intelligence
- Cognitive approach to intelligence:
 - Processing speed, inspection time task
 - Working memory, memory-span task
 - Attentional control, role of the frontal lobes
- Biological approach to intelligence:
 - Effect of genetic influence in principal and over time
 - Nature vs./and nurture, eg Flynn effect