

CALL FOR REFUGEE RESEARCHERS IN A RESEARCH PROJECT ON REPLICATION

Dear researchers,

In order to mitigate the effects of the current refugee crisis, the German Research Foundation (DFG) offers funding possibilities for refugee researchers who were, unfortunately, forced to abandon their work and flee due to the ongoing war events in Ukraine. The Division of Methods and Evaluation/Quality Assurance (Prof. Dr. Steffi Pohl), Department of Education and Psychology at Freie Universität Berlin, Germany would like to use this funding opportunity to aid refugee researchers and offer a paid position at our research unit.

Research project. In our project, we are investigating systematic replications to identify important factors for replicability in different disciplines. To this end, we aim to implement an existing framework (causal replication framework) and investigate how the assumptions of this framework can be ensured and tested in various disciplines. Therefore, we are looking for researchers interested in implementing this framework in replication studies in a specific discipline, or researchers interested in the methodological aspect of evaluating the framework.

Eligibility. If you are a refugee researcher and are interested to work at our unit on replications, please get in touch with our unit! You are eligible to apply for the project if you:

- have a Master degree in a field relevant for the project
- have knowledge and experience in quantitative empirical research
- have not been outside of your home country for more than 3 years,
- have residential status in connection with asylum procedure or can prove that you are recognized as being at risk.

Application. If you meet the above criteria and are interested in a position within our research unit, please send us a mail with a motivation letter, your CV and evidence for meeting the eligibility conditions. The designated person for communication is Augustin Mutak (augustin.mutak@fu-berlin.de).

IMPORTANT: Please note that the selection process consists of two steps. In the first step our research unit will pick the candidate, but in the second step the DFG needs to approve the funding for the project. The university will check whether all requirements are fulfilled for a position at the university. Our unit cannot guarantee that the evaluation by the DFG and the university will be successful.

Further information. If you have any additional questions or concerns, feel free to contact the designated communication person mentioned above.
