

WERA-IRN EXTENDED EDUCATION

An International Research Network (IRN) of the World Education Research Association (WERA)

News from the Network, February 2019

Development of our Network

The WERA-IRN Extended Education is Constantly Growing

We are glad to inform you that our network is constantly developing and growing in the number of its members. This shows us that the topic extended education has become very relevant to researchers all over the world.

To date, we have 87 members from 24 countries: Australia, Bangladesh, Canada, Colombia, Denmark, Finland, Germany, Hong Kong, Iceland, Italy, Japan, the Netherlands, Norway, Russia, Saudi Arabia, Serbia, South Korea, Sweden, Switzerland, Taiwan, Turkey, Ukraine, the US and the UK.

Sharing Information on Current Developments in the Research Field of Extended Education

We are convinced that as an international network we have the potential to enhance collaboration among researchers all over the world in order to identify the specific problems, features and possibilities of extended education. Therefore, we kindly invite you to send us information about current research projects, important associations and institutions or upcoming conferences in the research field of extended education so that we can share it with all our members.

E-Mail: wera-irn-extended.education.grundschulpaed@uni-bamberg.de

Publication of the WERA-IRN Extended Education Conference Volume

Conference Volume: Extended Education from an International Comparative Point of View, Marianne Schüpbach and Nanine Lilla (Eds.)

An edited volume of thirteen contributions of the 2017 conference, Extended Education from an International Comparative Point of View, which took place in Bamberg, Germany, will be published by Springer in May 2019.

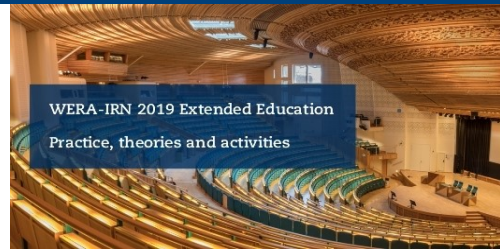

The volume will contain recent research about developments of extended education, its compensatory effects, multiprofessional collaboration of staff and peer relations within the field of extended education. Moreover, there will be a focus on the situation of extended education in Germany.

WERA-IRN EXTENDED EDUCATION

An International Research Network (IRN) of the World Education Research Association (WERA)

Upcoming Activities

Reminder: WERA-IRN EXTENDED EDUCATION 2019 Conference:
Extended Education – Practice, Theories and Activities

We would like to remind you that the next conference of our network will be held on September 26-28, 2019, at Stockholm University, Sweden. We invite you to an academic dialogue on different research perspectives and theories on goals and practices of Extended Education.

If you are interested in an active contribution to the conference, we are pleased to announce that the deadline for submitting abstract is extended to February 12, 2019. Please submit your abstract and register on the conference website <https://www.buv.su.se/english/wera-irn-2019>.

We look forward to seeing you in Stockholm, Sweden!

On the behalf of the local organizing committee:
Rickard Jonsson, Anna Klerfelt, and Anna-Lena Ljusberg